The image shows a musical score for the song "L'Espresso" by Giuseppe Verdi. The score is written for voice and piano. The tempo is marked "poco piu mosso". The vocal line is in the treble clef, and the piano accompaniment is in the bass clef. The score includes various performance instructions such as "CII", "CV", and "CVII", which likely refer to specific measures or sections of the piece. The piano part features a prominent bass line with many triplets and sixteenth notes, creating a rhythmic and melodic accompaniment for the vocal melody.

Handwritten musical notation for a guitar exercise, showing a sequence of chords and fingerings across two staves. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and fingerings (1-4). The exercise is divided into two main sections by a double bar line. The first section starts with a 'CV' marking and includes a 'C#' marking. The second section includes a 'C#' marking and a 'C' marking. The notation is written in a style that suggests it is a personal practice or teaching document.

A musical score for the song 'The Rose Tree'. The score is written on a single staff with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The melody is written in a simple, folk-like style. The lyrics are written below the staff, and the notes are written above the staff. The score is divided into four measures, each with a circled number (1, 2, 3, 4) below it. The first measure contains the lyrics 'The Rose Tree', the second 'The Rose Tree', the third 'The Rose Tree', and the fourth 'The Rose Tree'. The notes are written in a simple, folk-like style, with some notes beamed together. The key signature is one sharp (F#), and the time signature is not explicitly written but appears to be 4/4 based on the note values.
